FOR THE YEAR ENDING JANUARY 5, 1892.

THE NEWBERRY LIBRARY.

CHICAGO, January 5, 1892.

The Trustees of the Newberry Library would present to the public, which in various ways has manifested interest in the progress of their work, this, the fifth annual statement of their proceedings.

The expenditures on account of the Library for the year ending January 5th, 1892, have been as follows:

For books and pamphlets	$29,999.49
For periodicals	2,433.31
For freight, expressage and binding	2,788 01
		$35,220.81
For Library administration, including salaries, fuel, stationery, insurance, postage, printing, etc.,		27,260.45
Total		62,481.26

The Library may still be considered in its formative period. While the accessions from year to year have been considerable, and while in certain departments the collections are large, and already meet the wants of the majority of students, still, no department as yet approaches completeness. The accessions in the several departments are stated in the report of the Librarian, as also quite a full list of the more important works added during the year.

The increased attendance, both in the general reading-room and in the Medical Department, has been gratifying. Additional room for the use of readers will be provided in our present building at an early day; but, for their full accommodation, and convenient arrangements for a prompt supply of their wants, it will be necessary to await the completion of the new Library Building

In view of the increase in the number of visitors seeking the benefits of the Library, both from our own city and from abroad, and with the constant accessions of books and periodicals, the Trustees are planning methods which will bring readers and students into more direct connection with the treasures of the Library in its respective departments.

The phenomenal increase in our city and its suburbs of extensive manufacturing enterprises, has brought from different sections of our own and foreign countries large numbers of men skilled in the different departments of mechanics, chemistry, electricity, engineering and general science. This fact, in part, accounts for the increased attendance in the general reading-room, and the demand for books and periodicals on technical and scientific subjects. The Trustees omit no opportunity of meeting these wants, especially in our periodical list, both domestic and foreign, where information on these subjects is brought down to date. This list, in the general reading-room, now numbers 338, having been increased during the year by 110. The total list may be classified as follows:

Bibliography	40
Education	12
Fine Arts	15
History	36
Language	19
Literature	69
Music	13
Natural Science	31
Philosophy	7
Political Science	22
Religion	34
Useful Arts	40
Total	338

The additions of books and periodicals in the Medical Department are presented in the report of the Librarian. The Trustees would here express their thanks to the members of the Committee of Physicians and Surgeons for their time and thought kindly given in making these selections.

It is appropriate that mention should here be made of the loss sustained in the death, on February 26, 1891, of Hosmer A. Johnson, M. D., the Chairman of the Board of Medical Advisers since its appointment. Mr. Johnson took a deep interest in the establishment of the Medical Department of this Library; his wise and timely advice was always at our service, and from his private library he made valuable gifts to our collection. The following action was taken by the Board of Medical Advisers and Trustees:

Resolved, That by the death of Hosmer Allen Johnson, A. M., M. D., LL. D., one of this Medical Advisory Committee, the Newberry Library has lost one of its most enlightened and efficient supporters; the Medical profession one of its most eminent and honorable members, and the public one of its noblest benefactors. One, indeed, who was ever ready to give judicious aid to every cause, and whose example as a physician, a promoter of science and literature, a patriotic citizen, and an affectionate husband and father, is worthy of the highest commendation.

His son, Dr. Frank Johnson, was chosen in his father's place. The Medical Advisory Board now consists of the following gentlemen: Ephraim Ingals, M. D., Nathan S. Davis, M. D., A. Reeves Jackson, M. D., John W. Streeter, M. D., Christian Fenger, M. D., Frank S. Johnson, M. D.

The most important work of the Trustees during the past year, in its relation to general library interests, was securing the passage by our Legislature of an Act entitled "An Act to encourage and promote the establishment of free public libraries in cities, villages and towns of this State." The general interest manifested throughout our country in this Act, prompts the Trustees to print it entire as Appendix V. to this Report.

So soon as the proper papers shall be prepared by Counsel, it is the purpose of the Trustees to incorporate the Newberry Library under the provisions of this Act.

Upon the completion of the plans for the Library Building, by the Architect, Henry Ives Cobb, in March, bids were opened and contracts were let for the supply of the granite, for the masonry, and the steel and iron work. A trying delay was occasioned by the inability of the Granite Company to furnish a stone of the color contracted for. After additional outlays for quarry machinery, and the shipment of several hundred tons of granite, it became necessary to cancel the contract, and a new one was immediately made, without loss, with Norcross Bros., of Worcester, Mass., proprietors of extensive and long-worked quarries. Since then the delivery of stone has been regular, and the progress and character of the work has been satisfactory. The mildness of the winter has permitted the building to go steadily forward, and it is expected it will be under roof by June 1st.

E. W. Blatchford,
William H. Bradley, Trustees.

While this annual statement was in course of preparation, on the afternoon of March 1, 1892, William Henry Bradley was suddenly called from earth. Apparently in usual health, from the activities of large and varied responsibilities, he was, without a moment's warning, removed. A large circle of relatives and friends, indeed our whole city, was startled by the shock. With severity it came to the surviving Trustee of the Newberry estate, by whose side, for twenty-one years, he has shared the administration of this trust, and who places on record this brief minute.

Mr. Bradley was born at Ridgefield, Conn , Nov. 29, 1816, of an honored, patriotic ancestry. His grandfather—William Burr Bradley—was Colonel of a Connecticut regiment in the Revolutionary War, and was afterward appointed by President Washington, Marshal of the District of Connecticut. His father—Judge Jesse Smith Bradley—was an able lawyer, an upright man and a faithful Christian. Mr. Bradley was fitted for Yale College, but upon the death of his father took a clerkship in a business house, and afterward in a bank in New Haven. At the age of twenty-one, in 1837, induced by a brother residing there, he came to Galena, Illinois, then a frontier town of the Great West. He was at once elected clerk of the County Court, and three years later, of the Circuit Court of Jo Daviess County, a position he held for fifteen years, until 1855, when the judicial district of Illinois was created. Of this district the late Thomas Drummond was appointed judge, and at once chose Mr. Bradley as clerk of the court. He was afterward appointed clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States by the joint action of Judges McLean and Drummond, and he removed to this city For fifty-five years he has been in continuous service as clerk of these high courts of record—state and national. During this time he was not only the keeper of the records, the faithful discharge of which office involved interests of great magnitude, but was the legal custodian of the immense sums of money deposited in the registry of these courts.

In addition to these duties, Mr. Bradley took a prominent and influential part in the various public enterprises of our city during more than a generation; as an officer in the extended city railway system of the West Side, as one of the commissioners of Lincoln Park, as one of the charter members and the first vice-president of the Union League Club, as a member of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, as vice-president of the National Bank of Illinois, as one of the Board of Management of the Young Men's Christian Association, as a counselor of the Chicago Homeopathic College, as a member of the Chicago Historical Society, as a corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for foreign missions. In all these relations did he bear a full share of responsibility, while in the New England Congregational Church, where for twenty-seven years he had been an honored officer, was displayed in his intercourse with his associates, in his plans for the enlarged usefulness of the church, and in his wise counsels, the highest type of a consecrated Christian gentleman.

Upon the resignation, on June 20, 1871, of the late Hon. Mark Skinner, who was the Senior Testamentary Trustee under the will of Mr. Newberry, Mr. Bradley was chosen Trustee.

To the duties of this office, through twenty-one years of varied exigency and trial, he brought wisdom, patience, forethought, faithfulness; giving to the administration of the estate, and the foundation of the Newberry Library, assurance of success.

The character of Mr. Bradley was thus, through these various activities, thoroughly well known. He was a man of strength and wisdom, of modest bearing, of equable, dispassionate temper, of mature deliberation, and sound judgment, of unwavering urbanity and amiability of heart, of rare refinement and purity of life. In the best sense his life was a success.

E. W. BLATCHFORD,

Sole surviving Trustee of the estate of Walter L. Newberry, deceased.

RESOLUTION OF THE NEWBERRY LIBRARY STAFF MARCH 2, 1892, ON THE DEATH OF WILLIAM HENRY BRADLEY.

On motion of Mr. Chas. Alexander Nelson, chairman of committee on resolutions, the following action was had:

Resolved, That we, the members of the staff of The Newberry Library, would hereby express our deep sorrow and regret at the sudden death of WILLIAM HENRY BRADLEY, one of the Trustees. While the institution has lost in him one whose wise foresight, catholicity of judgment and untiring watchfulness and care, having contributed so largely to its establishment on broad and stable foundations, we feel more deeply than we can tell, our personal and individual loss. To each of us he was a just, kind and courteous friend, approachable, genial and sympathetic in personal intercourse, watchful alike of the interests of the great trust committed to him, and of the personal success and welfare of all engaged in the service of the Library. To the family and relatives we extend our sincere sympathy, and tender this expression of our sorrow.

These resolutions, signed by each member of the staff, were transmitted to the family of the deceased.

Tribute of the Chicago Medical Society, April 4, 1892, to the memory of William H. Bradley:

William H. Bradley, Esq., of Chicago, recently deceased, has left us an example that embraces the sum of the virtues of the most advanced Christian civilization, as represented by industry, temperance, frugality, simplicity, purity, uprightness and public spirit. The entire community—but more especially the medical profession—is under weighty obligations to him for his influence, together with that of his associate Trustee of the Newberry Library, E. W. Blatchford, Esq.,—in establishing the Medical Department of this Library. The members of the Chicago Medical Society feel it a duty, as well as a pleasure, publicly to express their sense of gratitude for the enlightened generosity with which the Trustees of the Library have acted in this matter. Although the Medical Department of the Library is yet in its infancy, enough has been done to give assurance of its final perfection. The full fruition of this work is not for us, but if carried forward in the spirit of its inception, its benign influences will extend to future ages and bless generations yet unborn.

The Chicago Library Club, on March 10, 1892, adopted the following resolutions on the death of William H. Bradley:

We, the members of the Chicago Library Club, pay our tribute of respect and honor to the memory of William H.

Bradley. We feel that we have lost a wise counselor and a friend who, as a Trustee of the Newberry Library, would have assisted us much in promoting the interests of the club. We deeply regret his absence, as a member of the club, from our meeting tonight, he having expressed his intention of being with us. To his family we extend our warmest sympathy in their bereavement.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

CHICAGO, January 5, 1892.

To the Trustees of the Newberry Library.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to present my report on the present statistics of the Newberry Library, and the progress it has made during the past year.

The whole number of books in the Library at this date is 78,179, and of pamphlets, 27,807. The accession of books during the past year was 17,565, and of pamphlets, 3,849. The number of books bought was 14,864, and the number given was 2,701.

The classification of the books and pamphlets received is as follows:

Angling and Sports	15
Antiquities and Folk-Lore	211
Bibliography	891
Biography, Genealogy and Heraldry	1,083
Cyclopædias and Dictionaries	11
Education	293
Fine Arts	392
General Literature	1,024
Geography and Travels	838
Government Publications and Sociology	1,244
History	1,459
Incunabula	15
Language	469
Manuscripts	3
Medicine	3,273
Music	4,230
Natural Sciences	654

Philosophy	104
Poetry and Drama	269
Religion and Ecclesiastical History	1,279
Serials	2,903
Useful Arts	670

The number of books bought was larger than on any previous year; but the generous donations of medical books in 1890 made its aggregate accessions exceed those of 1891. Large invoices of books purchased abroad will soon arrive, but not in season to be included in this report. It will be seen that the largest accessions have been made in the department of music, a collection which, for value and completeness, has already a national reputation. The entire library of an enthusiastic collector of early music and hymnology, consisting of 3,041 volumes, has been purchased. Mr. George P. Upton, the well-known musical writer and critic, to whom is due the credit of compiling the original list of musical books which form the Newberry Library collection, and who has recommended additions to it from time to time, has continued his invaluable and gratuitous oversight of the musical accessions during the past year. The next largest accessions have been made in the department of periodical publications; and sets of serials, as complete as was practicable, have been procured wherever they could be found in this country or abroad. As their valuable contents are now available by means of general indexes, full sets are much sought for by libraries and are becoming scarcer every year.

The Medical Department has been increased by 2,050 volumes, of which 790 have been bought and 1,260 given; and by 1,223 pamphlets, all of which were gifts. The Chicago Dental Society has given its collection of books numbering 140 volumes, as a basis of works on that specialty. The number of current publications now subscribed for and kept on file in the medical reading-room is 383. The countries which they represent and the number of sèrials from each are as follows: Australia, 2; Austria, 17; Belgium, 5; Canada, 5; China, 1; Denmark, 2, East India, 1; France, 61; Germany, 83; Great Britain, 46; Italy, 16; Japan, 1; Mexico, 1; New Zealand, 1; Russia, 1; Spain, 3; Sweden and Norway, 4; Switzerland, 2; United States, 130; West Indies, 1.

The other departments which have hitherto received special attention have been substantially strengthened, namely: Antiquities, Bibliography, History, Biography and Genealogy, Fine and Useful Arts, Language, Sociology and Religion. A full selection of books for the scholarly study of the Old and New Testaments, and a very complete collection of works on Assyriology have been received. Among the more important books added to these departments are the following:

The reading-rooms have been open 306 days during the year, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., and from 7 to 10 in the evening. The number of persons who made use of the general reading-room and that of the Medical Department was 16,802, of whom 11,864 were males and 4,938 were females. The daily average attendance was 55, varying from 94 on November 20, to 26 on April 16. Exclusive of the reference books accessible in the general reading-room, the use of which cannot be accurately ascertained, the classes of books most frequently called for were in the following order, namely: Bound periodicals, History, Literature, Fine Arts, Natural Sciences, Biography, Music, Philosophy, Useful Arts, Political Science, Religion, Travels, Bibliography.

In the Medical Department 1,436 readers were supplied with books. The number of readers has gradually increased as the year advanced, from 1,225 in January, to 1,634 in December. The largest attendance was 1,659 in October, and the smallest was 1,218 in June. Occasionally the rooms have been uncomfortably crowded. With the larger accommodations of the new building, the number of readers will doubtless be largely increased.

The number of current periodicals on file in the general reading-room is 338, of which 154 are American; 81 English; 32 French; 62 German; 6 Italian; 2 Spanish and 1 Dutch.

Appendix I gives the names of the donors to the general library; II, the names of the donors to the Medical department; III, the current periodicals on file in the general reading-room; and IV, the current periodicals on file in the Medical department.

Respectfully submitted,

W. F. Poole,

Librarian.

APPENDIX V.

AN ACT to encourage and promote the establishment of Free Public Libraries in Cities, Villages and Towns of this State.

Approved June 17, 1891, in force July 1, 1891.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the people of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: That whenever property, real or personal, has heretofore been or shall hereafter be devised or bequeathed by last will and testament, or granted, conveyed or donated by deed or other instrument, to trustees, to be applied by them to the foundation and establishment in any of the cities, villages and towns of this state, of a free public library, it shall be lawful, when not otherwise provided in said will or other instrument of gift, for the acting trustees in any such case, in order to promote the better establishment, maintenance and management of such library, to cause to be formed a corporation under the provisions of this act, with the rights, powers and privileges hereinafter provided for.

SECTION 2. Such acting trustees may make, sign and acknowledge before any officer authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds in this state, and file in the office of the Secretary of State, a statement in writing, in which shall be set forth the intent of such trustees to form a corporation under this act; a copy of the will or other instrument by which endowment of said library has been provided; the name adopted for the proposed corporation (which shall not be the name of any other corporation existing); the city, village or town in which the library and the principal place of business of the corporation will be located; the number of managers who may be denominated trustees, managers or directors of the corporation; and the names of the trustees, managers or directors who are to constitute the original board of such officers, and who shall hold until their successors respectively are elected and qualified, as in this act provided.

SECTION 3. Upon the filing in his office of such a statement as aforesaid, the Secretary of State shall issue to the incorporators, under his hand and seal of state, a certificate, of which the aforesaid statement shall be a part, declaring that the organization of the corporation is perfected. The incorporators shall thereupon cause such certificate to be recorded in a proper record-book kept for the purpose in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the said library is to be located; and thereupon the corporation shall be deemed fully organized and may proceed to carry out its corporate purposes, and may receive by conveyance, from the trustees under said will, deed or other instrument of donation, the property provided by will or otherwise as aforesaid for the endowment of said library, and may hold the same in whatever form it may have been received or conveyed by said trustees, until such form shall be changed by the action of the said corporation.

SECTION 4. Organizations formed under this act shall be bodies corporate and politic to be known under the names stated in the respective certificates or articles of incorporation; and by such corporate names they shall have and possess the ordinary rights and incidents of corporations, and shall be capable of taking, holding and disposing of personal and real estate for all purposes of their organization. The provisions of any will, deed or other instrument by which endowment is given to said library and accepted by said trustees, managers or directors, shall, as to such endowment, be a part of the organic and fundamental law of such corporation. The trustees, managers or directors of any such corporation shall compose its members, and shall not be less than seven nor more than fifteen in number; shall elect the officers of the corporation from their number, and shall have control and management of its affairs and property; may accept donations, and in their discretion hold the same in the form in which they are given, for all purposes of science, literature and art germane to the object and purpose of said corporation. They may fill by election, subject to the approval of the Chief Justice, for the time being, of the Supreme Court of Illinois, vacancies occurring in their own number by death, incapacity, retirement or otherwise, and may make lawful by-laws for the management of the corporation and of the library, which by-laws shall set forth what officers there shall be of the corporation, and shall define and prescribe their respective duties. They may appoint and employ, from time to time, such agents and employes as they may deem necessary for the efficient administration and conduct of the library and other affairs of the corporation. Whenever any trustee, manager or director shall be elected to fill any vacancy, a certificate under the seal of the corporation, giving the name of the person elected, shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds where the articles of incorporation are recorded. Whenever, by the provisions of such will, deed or other instrument by which endowment is created, the institution endowed is declared to be and is free and public, the library and other property of such corporation shall be forever exempt from taxation.

The trustees, managers or directors of such corporation shall, in the month of January in each year, cause to be made a report to the Governor of the state for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December, preceding, of the condition of the library and of the funds and other property of the corporation, showing the assets and investments of such corporation in detail.
